Week Commencing 04.02.19

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you so much for your support last week, the snow was an added bonus for your children. I am glad to say that the sickness rates have halved this week as a result. Sadly the staff are still suffering! I appreciate your patients when things don't quite operate as expected.

Last week the YR and Y1 children had an exciting time visiting the Theatre to see the Giddy Goat - a performance by a live orchestra. They returned inspired to play instruments such as the harp!

In school we had a visit from an author of The Day Granny's Knickers Blew Away for Y2 and Y3, which they thoroughly enjoyed.

I hope that you all managed to come to your structured conversations, if not please rearrange it we really want to work in partnership with you.

I would like to set up a Parent Learning Forum, where we discuss what helps your children to learn best and how we can jointly support this. The first one will be 13 February in the Willow Room at 2.15. We will discuss what school does to help you support your child's learning and what more we could do. I look forward to seeing you then.

Best Wishes

Sarah Sadler
